AN APPEAL
FOR
THE GIRLS' NEW BUILDING

A. C. V. Tucker, A. M. Lady Principal

Livingstone College and Industrial School.
Salisbury, N. C.

Founded by the late

Dr. J. C. Price.

W. H. Goler, D. D. Pres., and Treasurer of the Fund.

STATEMENT

LIVINGSTONE COLLEGE and INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL, the only child of Lincoln University, was named in honor of the great Philanthropist and Explorer, David Livingstone. It was incorporated in 1882 and chartered in 1885, and has become a positive force in the developement of the manhood and womanhood of the Negro race.

It represents the idea of self help in a greater degree, perhaps, than any other Negro school in the South. Of the amount required for the annual support of the work, more than three-fourths is paid by the Negroes themselves.

The total value of the property of the college is over $225,000.

The destruction, by fire, of Stanford Seminary, our only means of accomodation for the young women, entailed a loss in building and equipment of more than $20,000.

A modern and commodious building is proposed, and plans drawn for its erection, the estimated cost of which is $50,000. The General Educational Board has donated $12,500 upon condition that the Negroes themselves raise $37,500. We want to show ourselves equal to the opportunity.

This circular is an appeal to YOU for your hearty co-operation and liberal contribution. WE MUST meet the conditions of the General Educational Board, and we must erect this building at once, for it is an absolute necessity not only for the comfort and accommodation of the limited number of young women already in attendance, but also for the large number of applicants whom we have been compelled to refuse because of lack of room.

ALL contributions should be sent immediately to W. H. Goler, D. D., Treasurer of the fund.

To whom it may concern:

I am well acquainted with Livingstone College and Industrial School, Salisbury, North Carolina, an institution for the education of colored young men and women. For years, my State gives annually $2,000.00 for poor students. I have also contributed personally and have visited the institution and addressed the faculty and students. While Governor, I attended their Quarter-Centennial two years ago and spoke to nearly 3009 persons in and around the auditorium. Dr. Booker T. Washington also spoke during the celebration.

The school is mainly sustained by Negroes and is doing a splendid work for the uplift of the race. It is worthy of the generous assistance of Northern philanthropists and friends of the colored people. It is commended by the leading white citizens and some of the best of them are building homes near the institution. The first President and founder Prof. J. C. Price, was a genuine type of the Negro of great ability and oratorical power. His early demise was universally regretted as he was beloved throughout the State. Its present eloquent Secretary, Rev. Dr. James E. Mason is doing an excellent work in promoting its interest. I wish him great success in his difficult and much needed work.

R. B. Glenn, Ex-Governor of North Carolina.

Late Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Oct. 21, 1903 "I have been acquitted for 15 years with the admirable Institution Livingstone in North Carolina, of which my eloquent friend, the late J. C. Price, was the President.

Its aim is to make the Negro a good workman, whether he works in the pulpit or in the school-room, or at a mechanic's trade or on the farm. It helps the Colored man to help himself. Every dollar given to Livingstone is a first rate investment. It pays a good dividend.

Livingstone College, a co-educational institution for the colored race, located in my home town, Salisbury, N. C., is an institution devoted to the industrial and moral educational uplift of the colored people. I am personally acquainted with the nature and character of the work that is done there, and I take pleasure in stating that it is well and economically managed; that the students are orderly and respectful and the corps of teachers are men of excellent character and prominent colored men well fitted for the work. The school is doing a splendid work, and I am glad to commend the effort now being made to secure a Girls' Building as in every way worthy of the favorable consideration of those who may be charitably disposed.
